fited by Lack of Pace in Fourth Race.

M'KENNA HARD TO MANAGE.

The Three-Year-Old Can Scarcely Outrun Older Horse Through the Stretch - Beaucaire Has No Chance.

Aladdin will probably who the race. There will not be mixen early pare. Thus Aladdin will not have any treather keeping close to Dan McKenna. Aladdin will have the benefit of Sheehan's services. Dan McKenna is a hard house to ride and needs the assistance of a good ridet. Barring Sheehan, there is not a bey at the Fair Grounds capable of handling a horse who needs a vigorous finish. J. Taylor might do it, but he is hardly the finished article, or the semifinished one, either. Aladdin is a resolute horse in the stretch. He lacks speed, and if there was anything to set a fast pace, which McKenna could hang to, he would win. As it is, McKenna will not ret the pace; Beaucaire cannot, Lindenella is too slow and Aladdin is in the same boat. Second Mate may set a fast half, but that is all. It is not a good tage to bet en unless the bookmakers' eloquent slaties show where the winner is, Run right and true with all horses going to their races, it should come Day McKenna. EBY AND CLEARWATER TO PLAY. | been eager for another chance to get

Speckard, Browning Krueger, Pittsburg Beaumont, Pittsburg

Celebrated Cue Artists Will Tie Up for World's Championship. Grant Eby and Prank Clearwater have wen matched to play for the pool champlouship of the world and a purse of too by Manager Frank Benson of the Broad-

Eby is the present champion and Clearwater challenged him to play for the title. The challenge was accepted by Benson on behalf of Eby and the match will be played at the Broadway, commencing Monday. October 19, and continuing through the week. Nine hundred points will be played in blocks of 150 points a

This match is easily the most important ever played in the West. Clearwater has eaten more prominent poel players than any other player in the country and it was by winning from Clearwater that Eby gained the title of champion. Eby has succeeded in winning from Clearwater on two occasions by close margins.

Clearwater wanted the match to take place in the East, but Eby, as champion, had the right to name the city for the match. He chose St. Louis, because of the interest manifested in pool and billiards here, and because he found the conditions favorable to a championship match.

This match is the first real championship game ever arrunged for the West. Last winter Eby played here against Hueston, but at no time was he in danger of losing. With Clearwater he will have his work cut out from the start, and there he notelling who will finish ahead.

Both players are evenly matched, as far as mechanical ability is concerned, so management and luck will be the potent factors in deciding the winner. Eby is well known here, and he doubtless will be a slight favorite in the betting at the start. He is in good form, as indicated by his practice at the Broadway, where he has been conditioning himself for the last two weeks.

Clearwater has been practicing steadily in New York for more than a month. He has written Frank Benson that he never was in better shape and that he expects to win from Eby in decisive fashion.

The week following the championship match be 0ro and Kengh will arrive and open the Broadway Academy. Both these players have been sories champions and either of them may win again. Clearwater, Eby and Hueston will be the other Academy players. John Horgan may enter if he can arrange his affairs so as to allow him to devote his attention to pool. Horgan has several important bulliard matches in contemplation and he fears that these may obviate the possibility of his being a contender for pool honors. This match is the first real champion

Brown and Pelty were the opposing pitchers, and both were hit hard. In the matter of base hits, Pelty had the better of Brown, but the latter kept his raps scattered and they resulted in fewer runs.

In the field the Cardinals backed Brown may as though the world's championship hinged on the result, while the Browns fielding behind Pelty was only fair.

Dave Hrain, at short, played one of his remarkable games. Out of four times up he secured two safe rups, and made the secured two safe rups, and made the scatted has also him that be discounted and the way look like so much money from bome.

Barclay also played well, the fleet one getting in a nice timely rup and pilifering two bases. Burke put up his neual good game. The "Prite of Goose Hollow" got a nice single out of four times at but, and accepted everything sent his way, without an error.

For the Browns, Burkett, Heidrick, Swander and Shannon did the best work. The little cytcher was in nice form, and out of four trips to the pan smasked out two safe rape. Burkett and Swander each punctured Brown for three hits.

BRAIN'S SENSATIONAL CATCH. In the fourth inning Dave Brain brought the spectators to their feet by a running cutch of a twisting foul fiv out to short left field. It was one of those spiral files that go up like a church steeple, rather slow, but come down with the speed of a

For a time it looked like the Browns were going to have a walkover. In the third inning they got next to Brown and six safe raps netted them four runs. The Cardinals were not discouraged. They went at their task willingly and by a magnificent rally tied matters in their half of the third.

In the fourth, a base on balls, a double and a fix to Burkett gave the Cardinals a lead of one run. In the fifth, three singles and a deep fly to Heidrick gave the Cardinals two more tallies. In the sixth and seventh both sides were kalcinined.

mined. In the eighth, the Cardinals again got busy and a hit, two errors some elever work on the bases and two outfield flies gave them their last two runs.

BROWNS MAKE RALLY. The Browns railied in the ninth and had Burkett's savage welt gone through Smoot, there might have been a different tale to tell. Bewoock opened with a pop tale to tell. Howcock opened with a pop-to Smoot. Shannon singled. Pelty was out, Brown to Hackett. Burketi smashed one of Brown's benders to center, which Smoot's ciever fielding held to a single. Shannon chased across the plate on the rap. Swander followed suit, but Heidrick was an easy victim from Brown to Hackett. The core:
